DREAD OF HUMANITY

I am compelled by a sense of gratitude to tell you the great good your remedy has done me in a case of Contagious Blood Poison. Among other symptoms I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism, and got almost past going. The disease got a firm hold upon my system; my blood was thoroughly poisoned with the virus. I lost in weight, was run down, had sore throat, eruptions, spots and other evidences of the disease. I was truly in a bad shape when I began the use of S. S. S., but the persistent use of it brought me out of my trouble safe and sound, and I have the courage to publicly testify to the virtues of your great blood remedy, S. S. S., and to recommend it to all blood-poison sufferers, sincerely believing if it is taken according to directions, and given a fair trial, it will thoroughly eliminate every particle of the virus. JAMES CURRAN, Stark Hotel, Greensburg, Pa.

Painful swellings in the groins, red eruptions upon the skin, sores in the mouth and loss of hair and eyebrows, are some of the symptoms of this vile disease. S. S. S. is an antidote for the awful virus that attacks and destroys even the bones. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other mineral ingredient. We offer $1,000 for proof that it is not absolutely vegetable. Home treatment book giving the symptoms and other interesting and valuable information about this disease, mailed free. Our physicians advise free those who write us.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

How to Tan Sheep Pelts.

A competent furrier gives the following simple process for tanning the sheep pelts, says National Stockman. This process may be used for tanning any other fur skin. Wash the pelt well in warm water with soap until the wool is thoroughly cleansed. Rinse it well. Soak it for one day in a solution of alum and salt, using eight ounces of each in enough water to cover the pelt. Strain well and stretch on a board. When the pelt is half dry sprinkle the flesh side of the pelt with equal parts of pulverized alum and salt. Fold together and let it remain indoors for a week, turning it twice a day to get the alum and saltwater equally upon all parts of the skin surface. When well dried rub the flesh surface well with pumice stone. This will make the skin substance soft and white. This completes the tanning process.

Use Bedding Abundantly.

Cold weather is coming and animals where confined in stables or pens will need more bedding, says American Cultivator. It will pay to keep them abundantly supplied, as this is not only for the comfort of the animals, but for the value of the manure heap. With plenty of manure and other things in proportion there is hardly a limit to the productive capacity of the soil; at least it is seldom reached. Every farmer realizes the necessity of having more manure, and one way to secure it is by providing an abundant supply of absorbing material. Even if there appears to be a large proportion of this material in the manure, making it strawy and coarse, it can be plowed under and will answer an excellent purpose, as there is need of more humus in most of our soils.

Cottonseed Meal For Cattle.

I have been feeding meal and hulls as a fattening ration to keep cattle for fifteen or twenty years, says a Texas farmer in Farm and Ranch. Think very highly of it. When I get my cattle on full feed of meal and hulls I generally give them a pound of meal to four pounds of hulls thoroughly mixed. Have had some very satisfactory experience in feeding corn chips in connection with meal and hulls. Thirty pounds hulls, five pounds cottonseed meal and three pounds chops make an ideal feed for a thousand pound steer. He ought to gain two pounds a day, and a hundred days' feeding will finish him.

To Keep Hog Feed Warm.

Many farmers in cold regions have no means for keeping swill or milk warm in cold weather, but an ingenious farmer once showed the editor his way of solving that problem: Around a cask was built a box as high as the cask and with its sides about eighteen inches from the cask all round. The space was packed solidly with fresh but strawless horse excrement. When the device was shown the outdoor temperature was 23 degrees below zero, but the swill in the cask was 67 degrees, a very agreeable temperature for hog feed on such a day. Here was knowledge put in practice.—Farm, Stock and Home.

Salt For Sheep.

The great value of salt for sheep was shown in some recent experiments made in France. Three lots of sheep were treated alike in the matter of food, except that one lot had no salt, a second lot had one-half ounce per head every day, and the third lot three-fourths ounce per day. Those receiving one-half ounce per day did the best, gaining four and one-half pounds more than those that received three-fourths ounce. All the sheep receiving salt made 13.4 pounds more wool and had a better fleece than those which had none.

Beef Meal.

Beef meal is made from scraps of meat and bone from which the grease has been extracted and the liquors concentrated by cooking. The residue is then pressed, dried, ground and put in 100 pound sacks. It contains about 60 per cent protein and 8 or 9 per cent fat. Beef meal is fed to hogs with good results. It may be fed with corn in the same or somewhat greater proportions than tankage. Meat scrap has about the same composition as beef meal and is fed in the same way.—Rural New Yorker.

Best Egg Preservers.

In a test with various egg preservatives at the Ontario station the two leading successful substances were lime-water and glass-water solution. Eggs put up in lime-water scored 41 out of a possible 50, and those in water glass in proportion of one part to seven of water scored 43.2 out of a possible 50. The addition of salt to the lime-water failed to secure as good results as the lime-water alone, and greased eggs put up in salt were not equal to the others mentioned.

Bees In Winter.

Some beekeepers will put pieces of old carpeting or a bag of straw directly over the brood nest as a winter cover to act as an absorbent of the moisture arising from the bees. The latest advice is to cover with a board, says American Agriculturist. The board will absorb moisture, and if there is a light, porous material above it, which will be warm, this will keep the board dry.

Use the Paint Brush.

This is a good time to paint some of those buildings that need a little touching up. Paint prevents decaying.

Charcoal For Poultry.

Charcoal fed while fattening is apt to whiten the skin. Buckwheat has a like tendency.

No Cause For Worry.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers Druggist. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

LA GRIPPE—PNEUMONIA

So many people who have apparently recovered from an attack of La Grippe are stricken with Pneumonia. This is due to the fact that the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs are left weakened and unable to resist disease.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR not only cures La Grippe Coughs, and prevents Pneumonia, but strengthens the Lungs so they will not be susceptible to the development of serious lung troubles. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation that may contain some harmful drug when FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR costs you no more and is safe and sure. Contains no opiates.

I had a bad case of La Grippe about ten years ago which left my Lungs so weak that I have been troubled more or less every winter since until I used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, which cured me completely and my Lungs no longer trouble me.—J. H. BROWNING, D.D.S., Orrick, Mo.

G. VACHER, 157 Osgood St., Chicago, says: "My wife had a very severe case of La Grippe, and it left her with a very bad cough. She tried a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and it gave immediate relief."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00. The 50-cent size contains two and one half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much. Refuse Substitutes.
